

Application for Research Assistant Position
Language and Cognition Laboratory at the University of Maryland, College Park
Department of Hearing and Speech Sciences—LeFrak Hall room 0208
<http://languageandcognition.umd.edu>

Save this form with your full name: "FIRST_LAST_Application.doc and return it WITH a copy of your resume, and unofficial transcript to Yi Ting Huang at ythuang1@umd.edu

Name:	Phone:
E-mail address:
Today's date:

Date of birth: (optional)	Age: (optional)
What is your field of study?	What year are you?
Are you a native English speaker?	If not, at what age did you start learning English?

Why are you interested in joining the Language & Cognition Lab?

Do you have any prior experience or working with children? Please describe.

In the Language & Cognition Lab, we have 4 core values: integrity, curiosity, diversity of thought, and investment in people. Which ONE of these resonates the most with you and why?

Describe strengths that may not be represented on your resume. What skills do you possess that you'd like to tell us more about (e.g. people skills, organization, etc.)? Please provide an example.

When you encounter a problem, what steps do you take to solve it? Please provide an example.

Describe the role you tend to take when working on a team. Please provide an example.

What experiences do you hope to gain from working in the Language & Cognition Lab?

Thanks for filling out this application! If you have any questions, please contact Yi Ting Huang at ythuang1@umd.edu. In order to make this experience worthwhile, we ask students to commit to a minimum of 2 semesters in the lab (one to learn, another to teach) and 6 to 9 hours a week (i.e., 2 or 3 credits of HESP 499). Morning availabilities (e.g., before noon) are useful since that's when we typically recruit and test children at schools. Once you submit this application, we will contact you for an interview and work through specific schedule constraints.